
Unpublished items are displayed!!!

Posted by Daniel - 2008/04/23 20:44

I was updating my site today, and I set articles to be published tomorrow. But minifrontpage publishes them anyway right away!! I did not check my live site and later, after creating new content items, and setting them to be published tomorrow, I checked the site and saw all the new articles displayed.

In admin panel, they all were unpublished, I mean, created, but set to be published tomorrow. What happened?? I can't update my site with this problem!!

Please help. My live site is www.periodicoeltodo.com and this is a site I develop for a client of mine. So please help me solve this problem. I want articles to be published in minifrontpage as they should, at the selected date set in parameters at the time the article is created. Not before.

Hello Daniel,

lets me know that the articles which you want to show on tomorrow is pending published now (at your articles manager)?

i gues, it's about the different configuration between your server time and your time what do you think?

Rony

They are published, but pending. I create them during the afternoon, but they can't be displayed until next day, so in date, I always select the next day for publishing date.

I will try to check right now settings and let you know...

I just checked and Time Offset is correctly set to my time. The articles showed were "Published, but Pending" since the Start Publishing Date is for next day.

The articles were created today in the afternoon of April 23, 2008. They were set to be published tomorrow, April 24, 2008. And, instead of not be published, to my surprise, they were published anyway in the minifrontpage modules.

What do you think?
