hi,

i got cinemapiazza from a friend of mine, but i have got a problem, the template wont put the menu on the right. it doesnt matter in which module i put it in (left, right) it will just go below the body part.

please someone help me.

thanks alot

you mean you friend gave you cinemapiazza template just like that ????

That is mean than you do not have license to use it, because those templates are not free, they are commercial. You and your friend should be both banned from this site. :angry: :angry: :angry: :angry: :evil:

doesnt that depend on whether or not his friend has a pro membership which if he does - he can give it to him if he likes, as he would fall under the client category but having said that - he should ask his friend to post for him unless his friend is P2P

which in that case tough luck good buddy :)

Yeah...he should ask his friend or ask for membership access to Template Support Sub Forum to get commercial template support. Otherwise don't expect too much...from the TP support team...;)

Better you download this template after join TP. But, i have been search TP template with Google. Then many TP templates download free. Be careful for comercial template.
