
Page Peel ONLY On Home Page

Posted by Bob - 2008/05/03 09:33

I have been on an exhaustive search to figure out why all of a sudden - my PagePeel only shows up on Home Page - trying to recall any changes - and conflicts on "other" pages, but can't figure it out.

Any help? It's obviously published on ALL pages - and worked for a month (even had multiple page peels). I just updated to make sure...

Any help much appreciated:

Thanks
Bob

Hello Bob,
I'm not sure with your trouble, but would you like to give me your access for your superadministrator page?
i need to check that

Could you send me an email (or post your email) here as I would rather not post superadmin info on the forum..

Thanks

Bob

Well thx for looking into this. This is very strange. I noticed that when I change pages it says "Done, but with errors on page" in the left corner of my browser. This happens only when page peel is enabled. When I disable it the message doesn't appear.

I didn't think so because i install it and display in all pages. If setting display in all will display all or reinstall it. And maybe use different browser lets you know, that trouble depend on your template, server version and your browser (browser support FlashPlayer or not).

Hello Guys,

For browser trouble, you able to get several addons for FlashPlayer from your browser developer.

Do you have some SEF enabled? I get the same problem with sh404SEF enabled. If I shut it off, the Peel Banner shows on all pages.

Any idea how to fix this issue?

Hello guyz!

Same problem here. The Page peel doesn't go any further. It shows on the home page only although I set it to show on all pages. I have both SEF and sh404SEF enabled. I think page peel doesn't not support sh404SEF generated links. Both Page Peel and Sh404SEF are great mods/components. Sad they can't be used together.

Any fix?

Thx.

I've made two websites on one server, both have their own database.

On www.pensioent transparant.nu which is directly under the public_html folder pagepeel works fine on all pages.

On www.aovtransparant.nu which is in the folder public_html/aov pagepeel only works on the homepage.

Same thing when going directly to second site on www.pensioent transparant.nu/aov

As you can see, both sites are identical, both have SEF turned on with SEO patch 153 stable.

maybe it's about your setup manager
please make sure it's publish on every page

Do you really think all five of us who has this problem would have missed to publish the module on every page? Have you tried the module with sh404SEF activated? If so, can you please show us a website where it works?

i just see and ask about this

Of course it's published on all pages. Just found out that it has to do with SEF. Strange, but on the original <http://www.pensioentransparant.nusite> which is in the public_html directory it works ok with SEF on, and on the site in the subfolder www.aovtransparant.nuit only works with SEF off.

Found solution but don't understand it. Setting Apache mod_rewrite "on" and SEF on shows banner on all pages for site in subfolder.
